

Front-End Developer with a passion for coding innovative projects with using the power of React. I have a knack for stream-lining complex issues. My background in Sales Marketing aids me to create solutions that are both efficient and intuitive to the client's needs. I enjoy being a part of a team and working hard towards our collective goals. I'm looking to create more ways to seamlessly implement technology into the most common of everyday tasks, I am Green Card Holder, ready to relocate
